Consider Taxes When You Invest

Do you have too much in taxable investments?
If so, now might be a good time to reevaluate this issue.
Not only do most people expect taxes to increase due to the federal government deficit, but taxes in many states are expected to rise also.
How will this impact your retirement?

With retirement come additional key factors, such as Longevity, Inflation, Market Risk, and your ability to fund the lifestyle you envision for yourself.

Will your present Income Strategy provide you with the flexibility and control you need to respond to various contingencies and opportunities? We would like to meet with you to help answer these questions. When you call, ask about our weekly workshops.

Ribbon Day
Mattapoisett Formally Dedicates New Library
 By Kenneth J. Souza

Mattapoisett Town Historian and ardent library supporter Seth F. Mendell noted that in a time when many local communities are faced with fiscal constraints that either preclude them from expanding or renovating their existing libraries or, even worse, force them to close the facilities altogether, Mattapoisett remains unique in having been able to save their historic library and improve it in the process.

"Here we have a wonderful structure that so well embodies both the old and the new," Mr. Mendell said. "It's also unique in that we are standing in front of a $5.5 million building that only cost the taxpayers of Mattapoisett $2 million, thanks to a state grant from the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners and private donations."

Mr. Mendell should know something about the 106-year-old Mattapoisett Free Public Library building because his great-grandfather was responsible for providing the funding to build the original library back in 1902.

"You're looking at the fourth generation (involved in this project)," he said.

So it was with a great deal of pride that Mr. Mendell presided over the formal ribbon-cutting and dedication ceremony for the newly-expanded and renovated Mattapoisett Free Public Library held on Tuesday afternoon, July 15.

Speaking to a sizeable group of library supporters and residents clustered against the red-brick building seeking shade from the hot, late-afternoon sun, Mr. Mendell explained how this was a project 12 years in the making and how despite many setbacks and obstacles along the way, they finally have a new library of which the town can be very proud.

"There's so many people to thank for this project," said Selectmen Chairman Stephen J. Lombard. "You have the Building Committee who worked so hard to make it happen; you have the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners; and last, but not least, you have the taxpayers of Mattapoisett who brought it all together as the three key ingredients for this wonderful facility. It's truly a unique and special occasion."

"It's a really special day for the Town of Mattapoisett — you've really shown your commitment to your community and your commitment to your library," added Katherine K. Dibble of the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners. "These are difficult times for Massachusetts towns and cities. We have lots of competing interests for the few funds that are remaining ... and those of us who love libraries know they are very, very important to the life of a community."

Chief among those singled out in helping the project come to fruition were Library Trustee Robert H. Atkinson; fellow Trustee Elizabeth A. Theriault; Building Committee members and Project Managers Francis H. Gordon and Robert A. Cattley; architect Charles Van

"A great stroke of luck happened in 2000 when a woman named Judy Wallace joined us as our new Library Director," Mr. Mendell said. "We were very fortunate because Judy came from Harwich where they had just gone through the procedure we were embarking on — of obtaining a state grant and building a new library. In fact, she had put together the state grant application for Harwich, and so she fell right into harness here and put together our application."

throughout the state and region in 2000 to "really get a feel for what we should be building and should be planning for," Mr. Mendell said they subsequently embarked on a feasibility study to determine whether residents would support a library through private donations. Finding favorable results, they decided to take a three-tiered approach to funding the project — one-third provided through a state grant; one-third provided through private fundraising; and one-third funded through a town override.

"The rest is history," Mr. Mendell said, in turning to Ms. Wallace, who was joined by her husband, David Gries, and Project Managers Francis Gordon and Robert Cattley, at the library entrance for the official ribbon-cutting ceremony.

world as a sprint triathlon where the top finishers complete the course in under an hour. The race is one of a series of endurance challenges that take place each summer throughout the Southcoast region with events scheduled virtually every weekend during the season. This past weekend's triathlon included athletes as young as 11 years of age with the oldest competitor being 65 years of age. It would seem that age — neither young nor old — did not hamper times in the least as athletes on both sides of the spectrum posted times just off the pace set by the top athletes in the field.

The overall winner for the 2008 installment of the race was Brian Hughes, 31, of Randolph, MA, whose time of 51:06 was 2:22 quicker than his nearest competitor, Keith Putnam, 32, of Marstons Mills, MA. Mr. Hughes has now won the Mattapoisett competition for three consecutive years. The top female finisher in the field was Kimberly Shattuck, 37, of Bridgewater, who completed the course in 56:49, two-and-a-half minutes ahead of Katherine McAdoo, 26, of Arlington, VA.

Other notable times included 13-year-old Emily Curley of Mattapoisett, who came in with a time of 1:09:20 that placed her in 63rd place overall, while 65-year-old Tom Boyd of Bristol, RI finished with a time of 1:05:38 for 45th place. The race's youngest participant — 11-year-old Natalie Voos of East Aurora, NY — finished in 1:27:47.

The Mattapoisett Triathlon allows team competition as well with athletes taking part in either one or two sections of the course while teammates complete the other portions of the race. This year's top team consisted of former Old Rochester Regional High School track stars Peter Asci, 18, of Mattapoisett and Jared Douderville, 19, of Marion who completed the race with a combined time of 53:42 — nearly two minutes ahead of the next team of

Summer Theater
ORR Drama Club to Stage Aida
 By Olivia Mello

Old Rochester Regional High School's Drama Club is bringing yet another theatrical masterpiece to the stage. Giuseppe Verdi's Aida, with musical score by Elton John and Tim Rice, marks ORR's fourth alumni-involved, summer production.

Aida tells the story about a romance that is far from being simple. The tale becomes a complicated love triangle when Radames, who is already betrothed to Amneris, the daughter of Pharaoh, becomes infatuated with Aida. The two fall in love against the wishes of both Amneris, as well as their respective parents.

The drama team is very excited to have the help of James Harkness with the musical's choreography. James was in the Broadway production of Aida, as well as The Color Purple and the revival of Dreamgirls. One of the main reasons for choosing this particular production came from James' great willingness to get involved with the ORR cast. He has worked 12 long days with an eagerness to push the high school students into reaching the standards of Broadway.

Gary Vaughn ('02) and Melissa Rigby ('07) are assisting James with the dance routines. Stage managing is being done by Kate Duglosinski ('05) and Casey Whelihan ('09).

on the multiple tasks of direction, lighting, sets, specific musical staging and vocal direction. In order to get the play just right, he has been dedicating 13- to 14-hour days, five days a week. Michael Amaral has been working as the orchestra director. Helen Blake, with the help of a few others, has taken on the important job of costume designer. Approximately 70 ensembles have been made, almost all of them being 100 percent handmade. One of the first completed pieces was an intricate robe constructed out of an enormous patchwork quilt. This particular piece is very primitive but holds great reverence at the same time. This creation, which Helen and partner Cheryl Francis should be very proud of, can be gazed upon during Aida's "Dance of the Robe" scene. This, along with all of the other costumes, should make for a very colorful and visually-pleasing performance. Though Aida may tell the tale of a fantastically sad love story, there is no doubt that it will be beautiful to see.

Many of the leading roles have been given to past graduates; however, present high school students have also been chosen to help complete the cast. Aida stars Jillian Zucco ('11) as Amneris, Nathan Valente ('05) as Radames, Nicole Franklin ('05) as Aida, Aaron Valente ('07) as Mereb, Colin Butterfield ('07) as Zoser, Evan Berry ('06) as Pharaoh, Martin Pasqual ('05) as Amonasro and Katie Hourihan ('07) as Nehebka. The chorus consists of 18 past and present students, including one from the Rhode Island School of the Deaf. Those working as "techies" are made up of a total of sixteen.

Compared to other plays the ORR Drama Club has produced, Aida is not as big, having a full cast of only 53. Paul explained how exciting it has been working with a smaller group because each cast member is inevitably being held responsible for much more work. It has showed him truly how much heart these kids have in what they do. Working with past graduates has also made the experience a wonderful one because they have a much more mature outlook on rehearsals as well as many different aspects of the show.

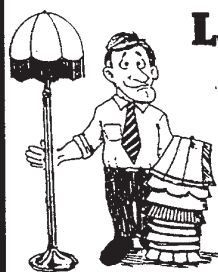

Aida will take place during the weekend of July 24 through July 27. Tickets are $12 for adults and $8 for students and seniors. They will be available at the Pen and Pendulum in Mattapoisett, the Marion General Store and the Plumb Corner Market in Rochester. Tickets will also be sold at the door on the night of the shows. For additional ticket information, please call 508-758-6762. It is to be certain that the six long weeks of rehearsing will pay off once the curtain draws on opening night.

Arts in the Park Offers Unique Handiwork By Robert Chiarito

It was a busy weekend for the Marion Art Center (MAC) as the organization played host to several events recently. From Wednesday, July 9 through Sunday, July 13, the MAC played host to the twelfth Annual Buzzards Bay Musicfest. On Friday evening, July 11, they held their Gala Fundraiser and on Saturday, July 12 the Marion Art Center held the Sixteenth Annual Arts in the Park art fair in Marion's Bicentennial Park.

Approximately 40 artists and craftspeople set up tents and booths to show their work and offer it for sale in what proved to be a great way to spend a perfect summer's day. Hundreds of people turned out to take part in the fair. In addition to enjoying the work in the park, the Art Center also welcomed visitors to take a look at its current exhibit, Small Works, featuring artists Veronique Bale, Judy Carver, Meg Howland and Alice Shire, which is hanging inside the galleries of the old Unitarian Church at the corner of Main and Pleasant Streets. As the patrons strolled through the park from booth to booth, members of the Dixie Diehards serenaded the crowd with their sweet Dixieland jazz refrains. The band, which played at the MAC earlier this year, is set to make a return engagement to the Art Center on August 23.

A number of the artists involved were veterans of the various art fairs that take place throughout New England during the spring and summer months each year and were making a return visit to Marion for this particular event. Artist Judy Miller of Bristol, RI, said that she was attending the Marion art fair for the second consecutive year.

"I did this last year and did pretty well so I thought that I would try it again," she said. Ms. Miller's work concentrates on accent pieces for the home. "I am also an interior designer and with the economy the way it is everyone is budgeting their projects before they begin which makes things harder for people in my position."

Many of the artists in attendance this past weekend kept the economy in mind as they created inexpensive lines of work for those wishing to bring home something special at a bargain price. Items could be found for as little as a dollar for a hand-blown glass refrigerator magnet to more expensive pieces ranging in the thousands for pure gold earrings augmented with precious gem stones.

For some artists, such as Michael R. McCarthy of Mattapoisett Bird Works, the fair offered a chance to display both his works of art and the skill used to make them as he worked continuously throughout the day carving his birds while fair goers looked on. Mr. McCarthy's hand-carved birds are each a painstakingly authentic rendering that takes many hours of work to create. As he shaved and smoothed life into each wooden block, he also patiently explained his process to each person who

Buzzards Bay Musicfest Returns to Marion

By Robert Chiarito

Every July the residents of Marion and the surrounding area are privy to one of the finest music festivals the world of classical music has to offer as the Marion Art Center brings the Buzzards Bay Musicfest to the Fireman's Center for the Performing Arts at Tabor Academy. The festival, now in its twelfth year, brings together some of the most talented musicians in the country to perform in Marion over a five-day period, free-of-charge to the attending public.

Beginning this past Wednesday, July 9, the festival continued through Sunday, July 13 with local music lovers being treated to four performances of orchestral and chamber music. Each day's performance offered a different program featuring the works of J.S. Bach, Gabriel Faure', Mozart, Beethoven and Brahms among others. The festival's orchestra was led by Maestro Russell Patterson who served as the Conductor, and the creator, of the Laureate Lyric Opera of Kansas City for 40 years before moving to Cape Cod. Mr. Russell's orchestra gathered from a variety of locations, with some of the performers coming from as far away as Los Angeles. These gifted players have performed literally the world over during their careers both as members of ensembles and as soloists.

The festival played to near capacity audiences at each performance and treated listeners to a total of thirteen classic pieces. Highlights of this year's program included Saturday evening's performance of Franz Schubert's String Quartet in D minor, D, 810, also known as Death and the Maiden, Johannes Brahms' Double Concerto in A minor, Op. 102 on Sunday featuring soloists Janna Lower on violin and Mark Tanner on cello. The opening evening's finale of Mozart's Symphony No. 25 in G minor, K. 183 and Schubert's haunting quartet featured the talents of Eric Tanner and Lorenz Gamma on violin, Mathew Rombaum on viola and Claude Jaffe on cello. The four musicians attacked the piece in a manner reminiscent of the Emerson String Quartet bringing the audience to its feet at the conclusion of the piece.

Friday night served as an intermission for the festival and gave the Marion Art Center the opportunity to thank its many contributors and patrons during a Gala

RABIES

My neighbor and I were talking about our indoor cats. When I asked who her vet was she said that she had never taken her cat to the vet. She said that the cat needed no shots because it never went outside. Is this correct?

Unfortunately, no. This is neither correct nor a rare opinion. Indoor cats need vet care as much as outdoor cats. Vaccination for Rabies are a legal requirement as well as a good idea, at the very least. Rabid raccoons are common and do get into houses and indoor only cats sometimes end up outdoors. Thus, the cats' health and the health of the family may be endangered.

Your neighbor is also thinking of vets as emergency personnel. Much of our job is to prevent illness and suffering. Annual visits are geared towards making sure that the pet is indeed, happy and comfortable. Dental disease, and the pain that goes with it, obesity, and other problems are extremely common in indoor only cats.

Fundraiser. Although the music played at the Buzzards Bay Musicfest is of a quality found in any opera houses or concert halls in the country, one of the elements that makes the event so special is the casual atmosphere that permeates it. While this is most certainly formal "black-tie" music, it is played to people spending the summer by the sea, making this aural treat a unique experience for all involved.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

July 14, 2008

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, July 14 at 7:01 pm by Chairman pro tem Dan A. McGaffey. Also present were Selectman Brad Morse, Town Administrator Richard LaCamera, Town Counsel Blair Bailey, and Administrative Assistant Veronica Lafreniere. Selectman Richard Nunes was not present for the meeting.

Chairman McGaffey first wished to recognize the recent passing of Arthur Lionberger, a longtime Rochester resident and "pillar of the community," according to Mr. McGaffey, who was the town's oldest resident. As former keeper of the Boston Post cane, Chairman McGaffey noted the cane has been given to the Rochester Council on Aging for presentation to the town's next eldest citizen at a later date.

After approving the minutes of the June 23 meeting, the board noted the next regular Selectmen's meetings will be held on July 28; August 11 and August 25. Resident Scott Hartley also submitted a letter expressing interest in serving on the Finance Committee (FinCom), which has been forwarded to them for consideration.

The board also received a letter from Attorney Joseph Perry regarding property owned by Hiller Brothers which is currently under a Chapter 61A conservation restriction. The board unanimously voted to pass on their purchase of the parcel under the "right of first refusal" option.

At 7:05 pm the board opened a Dog Hearing upon a complaint against Ed Rose and his dogs located in a kennel on his property on Walnut Plain Road.

Resident and abutter Tim Scholz first noted that he and his fellow neighbors are seeking relief under Massachusetts General Laws (MGL) Chapter 140, Section 157, with regard to dogs being a nuisance.

"I think the number of people here pretty much constitutes a public nuisance," Mr. Scholz said. "I have copies of the police records which show in 2008 there were eight complaints against (the Rose dogs). We live across an open field from where Mr. Rose has placed his dogs. The dogs bark continuously ... up to two and three hours at a time. In the years that Mr. Rose has operated this kennel, no attempt has been made to hide the sight line from the road, so the dogs can see the road and bark at (all passing traffic). In the wintertime when there are no leaves, the sound travels right up to our neighborhood."

While this hearing was convened solely to consider alleged violations under Chapter 140, Section 157, some residents like Mark Collins wanted to know if other issues could be addressed regarding Mr. Rose's dog breeding hobby.

"This is a quasi-legal judicial hearing," said Town

Counsel Blair Bailey. "Any other issue discussed outside the particular statute as advertised ... would require another hearing."

Abutter George Thomas was upset that nothing has been done about this problem for over a year and a half. "We've been calling ... the Animal Control Officer (ACO) and the Police Department and absolutely nothing has been done. Someone has to be responsible for these dogs. We all have dogs — but we don't let them bark. That's all we're asking: just keep the dogs quiet. I don't think it's unreasonable."

Tom Forcier, who just moved to Rochester last November, said within days of his moving in he heard the incessant barking and "thought we had made a mistake."

"This is starting to become a bashing," Mr. Rose interrupted. "People are talking about how I take care of my dogs. Are we going to stick to the agenda of barking dogs?"

While Christopher Beck agreed that "it's all noise for me and my family," another of Mr. Rose's neighbors, Craig MacAlpine, said the only time he's heard the dogs barking is when people go up to the kennel. "That's the only time I've ever heard the dogs bark in the time I've spent there," he said.

"I've called the police and had the dispatcher say they can hear them barking in the background," said Sharon Fugeron. "I just can't express the words that we all have for it. One night it was so unbearable ... I called the Selectmen's office and left a message for (Selectman) Nunes. It doesn't cost anything to be a good, cordial neighbor. We're not here making this up, (but) we've been left with no choice. Part of being a good pet owner is being responsible."

"I've responded to a lot of the complaints," noted ACO Anne Estabrook. "Mr. Rose did buy barking collars, but they didn't work. He did buy another device and he's said he's tried to move the dogs so they would be inside at night."

"I haven't seen anyone come to (my house) and ask me what needs to be done," Mr. Rose said in response to his neighbor's complaints. "I don't want to be a jerk and be a bad neighbor. Saying the dogs bark 24 hours a day is not the truth. I was going to (build a new kennel) and the Building Inspector stopped me. I want the dogs away from (the neighbors). But I got into a little tiff with (him) because I'm making a new situation for the dogs."

According to Mr. LaCamera, he met with Mr. Rose after receiving numerous complaints from neighbors and went to Mr. Rose's house to investigate.

"I went down there myself and as soon as I got there, the dogs started barking," Mr. LaCamera told Mr. Rose. "The dogs stopped barking because you were there. If you weren't there, the dogs would be barking. You said you would try to address the issue. You said you submitted something to the Building Inspector to build (a new kennel). There was no plan submitted to the Building Inspector. So I came to you and asked when you're going to fix the problem. You refused to give me a timeframe. We wouldn't be here if you had given me a timeframe."

Attorney Robert Perry, who was representing Mr. Rose, explained that his client was looking into bringing a used mobile home to permanently locate on his property from which he would strip out the plumbing and use to shelter the dogs.

"He wants to use it to contain the dogs during the day so there's no outside stimulus," he said.

At this point, Town Counsel Blair Bailey suggested closing the hearing to public comment and ask that Mr. Rose and his attorney draft a proposed solution for submittal to the board prior to their next regular meeting on July 28.

"Mr. Rose, can you come up with a solid plan with a timetable and budget to solve this problem by July 28?" Chairman McGaffey asked.

When Mr. Rose and Mr. Perry agreed, the board unanimously voted to continue the hearing to July 28 at 7:00 pm.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. LaCamera noted the window installation project at Rochester Memorial School is proceeding nicely and is ahead of schedule. A Liberty Elm tree will be dedicated on Thursday, August 14 at the Plumb Memorial Library beginning at 6:30 pm.

Under incoming correspondence, the board received notification from the Rochester Police Department that they have been awarded a grant in the amount of $5,000 to purchase Child Passenger Safety Equipment. SE-MASS/Covanta also sent payment in lieu of taxes in the amount of $273,516 for refuse collected during the month of June. They also received an update from Alewives Anonymous of the latest herring counts, which showed

At 8:00 pm the board opened a second Dog Hearing upon a complaint against Jessica Snow and Brian Carlson and their dog.

According to neighbor Liz Barros who filed the original complaint, the beagle owned by Ms. Snow and Mr. Carlson is constantly in her yard, digging up the grass.

"Basically he's been digging up our yard, in all areas," Ms. Barros said. "We've been woken up in the middle of the night and early in the morning with him barking. I've talked to the owner and she told me they have an invisible fence, but they haven't installed it yet. The dog is constantly barking. I was on my own deck one morning, and he actually showed his teeth at me and growled. He's urinated on our mailbox and our vehicles, so he's marking his territory."

"I've seen the dog out loose numerous times, and it's not licensed either," added ACO Anne Estabrook.

There being no one else present to offer input, the board unanimously voted to close the hearing.

With that, they also moved to have the owners provide proof of dog license and rabies vaccination, and also ordered that the dog be confined to his own property via non-electronic means — either tied to a run or kept in a fenced-in area.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:11 pm.

in the appeal of a 2006 U.S. District Court decision that struck down large portions of the Massachusetts Oil Spill Prevention Act, rendering Buzzards Bay vulnerable to future oil spills.

Money raised from the event will benefit not only advocacy efforts such as this, but also the Coalition's education, conservation and research programs that aim to protect the Bay's health. "Outer New Bedford Harbor, where the Swim takes place, has made a remarkable comeback over the past 20 years," said Coalition President Mark Rasmussen. "In general, the water quality appears to be relatively high and that's a result of the amazing restoration efforts that have occurred. It's proof that if you invest in cleaning up the Bay, the health of its waters can turn around."

The Swim is separated into two waves, the first for more accomplished swimmers and the second for swimmers who prefer to have a personal kayak escort. Wave 1 swimmers will hit the water at 7:15 am, to be followed by Wave 2 swimmers shortly after. An awards ceremony at the Fort Phoenix finish line will cap off the event at 9:00 am. Last year's fastest male and female swimmers, Kendra Medina, 16, of Marion and Joe Herbert, 55, of Amherst, will be defending their titles. Prizes will also be given out for fastest male and female in their age group, fastest team, as well as top fundraiser. The public is welcome to cheer on the swimmers and join the finish line festivities.

Junior Classic in Mattapoisett

The American Junior Golf Association will visit Mattapoisett for the first time in its 30-year history to host the Fidelity Investments Junior Classic at The Bay Club on July 21-24. The 54-hole stroke play event will bring 99 of the nation's top junior golfers from Massachusetts and around the country.

The Bay Club at Mattapoisett is a private, member-owned country club and residential community in Mattapoisett. Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Marion School Committee, I encourage the community to join me in thanking Margie Baldwin, Tim Crowley and Steve Gonsalves for their most recent contributions to Sippican School. The School Committee and members of the administration donated two weeping cherry trees in honor of Susan Grosart, who served on the committee for fifteen years. Margie Baldwin, a member of the Marion Tree Committee, surveyed the proposed site for the trees, made the selection and coordinated the delivery and installation of them. Tim Crowley then installed the trees, transplanted other plants and trimmed the trees that line the entrance to Sippican. The trees are a beautiful addition to the school and should bloom next May, while the students and staff are still in school.

We would also like to thank Steve Gonsalves of Eden Landscapes for his work on cleaning, mulching and trimming the Children's Garden. Five years ago when Marylou Hobson retired as principal of Sippican School after fourteen years, her only request for a retirement gift was a memorial garden at school. With the help of designer Susannah Davis and privately donated funds, a garden was created between the town library and the school. It centers around a pine tree that is over 90 years old, most likely a seedling when President Woodrow Wilson was in office and Sippican School was only a dream. The benches surrounding the tree are engraved with the names of four students that passed away while Mrs. Hobson was principal; this was her wish so that they are remembered near the school.

Thank you as well to Susan Grosart and Marylou Hobson. When asked what gift you wanted upon your retirements, your only request was a gift right back to the school ... trees and

Mattapoisett Democratic Committee

The turnout was great for the Mattapoisett Democratic Town Committee's "Unite for Change" coffee hour on June 28, with more than 50 people enjoying coffee, fresh fruit and breakfast pastries, all donated by generous area businesses: How on Earth-the Store, Seaport Village Ice Cream Shop, Shipyard Galley and Mr. Henry Wood. Mardee Xifaris, Democratic National Committeeperson, discussed strategies for the upcoming presidential campaign and urged all to get involved in whatever way they could.

The proposed neighborhood overlay district enables mixed use in the existing commercial district located at the intersections of Front Street, and Spring Street with Route 6. Mixed-use, currently limited in this area, is intended to create availability of needed housing options in line with the latest developments of "Smart Growth," including truly affordable housing, as well as environmentally and commercially positive development and retain Marion's seaside village character.

The overlay district is directed from the Marion Growth Management Report of 1996, the Marion 2015 Report, of 2006, and is encouraged by most elected officials. It is the goal of this overlay to protect Marion from the well-funded, chain-store-based sprawl development currently allowed and to enable locally-owned and operated businesses to succeed, while bringing new tax revenue and increasing economic opportunities for local citizens and businesses.

The purpose of the public forum is to seek input from Marion residents, both year-round and summer, so that collective goals are achieved in the most positive ways. In addition to the presentations, specific bylaw options will be discussed and public input is strongly desired. The meeting is open to all who wish to protect and preserve the best of Marion.

Friends of Mattapoisett Library

The Friends of the Mattapoisett Library will hold their annual meeting on Friday, July 25 at 7:00 pm in the Meeting Room of the library. Guest speaker Dr. Alan Hickey will give a presentation on his recently-completed assignment in Port Harcourt, Nigeria with Medecins Sans Frontieres (Doctors Without Borders).

Dr. Hickey co-managed a 77-bed trauma hospital in the Niger Delta, the heart of Africa's oil-producing region. This is one of three hospitals run by MSF that specialize in orthopedic and trauma surgery. Teme hospital, staffed with 210 nationals and 10 expats, was established in 2005 to treat the victims of escalating political and gang violence.

Dr. Hickey was raised in Mattapoisett. He has worked extensively at sea leading research cruises to Antarctica through the U.S. Antarctic Program supported by the National Science Foundation, and sailing as Captain aboard the vessels of the Sea Education Association in Woods Hole. He is licensed as a Master Mariner through the U.S. Coast Guard and obtained his Doctor of Chiropractic degree at the National University of Health Sciences in Chicago.

Please join the Friends for a brief business meeting, an interesting presentation and coffee and dessert.

Fairhaven Library Reception

The Trustees of the Millicent Library in Fairhaven are planning a small reception for those interested in commemorating Earl J. Dias on Saturday, July 19 at the Millicent Library at 2:00 pm. The program will be held in the Lewin Room. There is an elevator to the main part of the building on the Walnut Street side. They hope to have volunteers read from his works and ask people to share anecdotes or other tidbits from their acquaintance with this wonderful scholar and teacher. If he made you memorize a passage from literature, you could volunteer to recite or read it. They know that many, many lives were touched by Earl in his long career as critic, author, high school teacher, college professor, and library trustee, to be very sincere.

Director Duggan brings out a remarkable depth of performance from her actors: she helps each person understand their character's motivation and development as events in the play unfold. With a grueling schedule of four and five rehearsals each week, the actors do much more than memorize their lines.

This is a "repeat performance" for Duggan at the Plymouth Community Theatre; she recently directed Book of Days for the group.

For additional information about this and future shows, please contact Jeannine Washburn at jwashburn29@comcast.net.

Private Garden Tours

The Garden Conservancy's Open Days Program invites garden lovers to Marion and Mattapoisett this summer, featuring six private gardens open to the public on Saturday, July 19 from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm.

Bluefish Gardens at 42 Water Street in Mattapoisett consists of formal and informal settings, with ponds, vegetables, and a Japanese garden. The three-year-old project, including the titanium-clad house, is the work of the owners, a structural engineer and his artistic wife. Don't miss the opportunity to see this ordered, innovative approach to house and garden, one which unites both old and new.

In Marion, the Baldwin Garden at 72 Water Street features a variety of trees and shrubs: Stewartia, larch, Styrax japonica, Halesia, three types of magnolia, Metasequoia, Acer griseum, Franklinia, hawthorne ("Crimson Cloud") Princeton elm, white fringe, Heptacodium jasminoides, a perimeter of Bradford pears, and several varieties of crabapple along with umbrella pine, holly, Hinoki cypress, and many Japanese maples.

The Barrett Garden at 68 Pleasant Street is a work in progress and is in a state of transformation. With the addition of a pool in 1999, the owners have added more cutting beds which provide magnificent splashes of color. A Cottage Garden on South Street displays a palette of intense greens — highlighted with soft pink, warm white, and periwinkle blue. Shaped beds, stonework, and a curved pathway guide the visitor past holly hedges, hostas, and a mix of hydrangea to the backyard.

The Hermitage is an historic property located at the head of Sippican Harbor where the commanding view made it an ideal location for a Native American meeting ground. Early in the 1600s, pilgrims brought their cattle from Plymouth to graze in a warmer location during the winter. The small guest house in the courtyard is an original building. The present owners purchased the property from George Delano in 1916. Since then the original farmhouse has been replaced, but the gardens inside the stone walls are more than 100 years old.

And finally The Moorings, located on Converse Point in Marion, is surrounded on three sides by Buzzards Bay. The gardens remain much as they were more than 100 years ago: hedge enclosed front gardens, cutting and vegetable gardens to the west side of the house, a sea-swept sunken garden on the bay side lined with fieldstone walls, and a glass-enclosed camellia garden off the dining room.

Admission to each private garden is $5, or get discounted tickets in booklets of 6 for $25 on the day of the tour. Open Days are rain or shine, and no reservations

MOVIE REVIEW

Demon Knight

By Rob Gonsalves
www.efilmcritic.com

Hellboy II: The Golden Army*. Starring Ron Perlman and Selma Blair. Directed by Guillermo del Toro. Runningtime: 110 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13.

In Hellboy II: The Golden Army, Guillermo del Toro lets his freak flag fly. The Mexican fantasist behind such sui generis dark fairy tales as The Devil's Backbone and Pan's Labyrinth (and also the first Hellboy film) clearly spent his childhood devouring every issue of Famous Monsters of Filmland he could get his mitts on, and he's still spending his childhood that way. Hellboy II is densely packed with creatures huge, small and human-sized, particularly in an episode when Hellboy (Ron Perlman) and his teammates from the Bureau for Paranormal Research and Defense have a look around some sort of troll bazaar tucked away under the Brooklyn Bridge. So many unspeakable and indescribable beasts lurch, waggle, and slither within the frame — often in the background — that the effect is less horrifying than celebratory. "I'm home," del Toro might be saying.

Slight bad news first: Hellboy II suffers — a little — from del Toro's shoot-the-works spirit, just as his friend Peter Jackson got lost in his Skull Island playpen. There's always a lot going on, though the plot is comic-book simple; del Toro and cowriter Mike Mignola (who created Hellboy for Dark Horse Comics) garland this dish so heavily that the palate becomes overwhelmed and even a little jaded. Like Jackson, even so fecund a magician as del Toro just can't keep topping himself, and it must be said that the subtitled Golden Army, which figures in the overstuffed climax, feels like something out of a Mummy film. Whenever del Toro gets behind the wheel of a pop apocalypse like this one, cinematic gigantism takes over, not always to the movie's benefit.

But still. Del Toro makes plenty of room for beauty and pathos, without which a monster mash is merely an advanced arts-and-crafts show. Hellboy is still smitten with Liz (Selma Blair), who commands fire and wishes the big red lug would clean up once in a while. It's a clichéd conflict, but it also gets to the heart of their unstable relationship: bad enough he's a stogie-chomping alpha male — he's also a demon. Against all odds in this creature-infested summer blockbuster, Perlman and Blair do honest, hurtful work together. Hellboy's teammate, the amphibian Abe Sapien (Doug Jones), also gets weak in the knees over a dame — in this case, Princess Nuala (Anna Walton), of a dying race of elves, whose twin brother Prince Nuada (Luke Goss) wants to squash all the humans and make the earth safe for inhumans again.

The multiplex hasn't exactly been safe for humans lately; WALL•E told us we were becoming bloated simpletons, and Hellboy II considers us inelegant little monkeys whose reaction to the extraordinary is fear and loathing. But I can't say these movies don't have a point: we do suck in a lot of ways. Yet our complicated response to movie monsters, a mix of dread and pity which redeems us, has powered dark fantasy film since its birth. At least twice, del Toro tips his hat to Universal monsters, with Boris Karloff intoning "We belong dead" on a TV and perhaps echoing Hellboy's thoughts at a self-hating moment, and the Creature from the Black Lagoon mirroring Abe's predicament as a fish-man in thrall to a princess. Awkward as the plotting is, the movie is too stubbornly weird, too deeply in love with freakishness, to be waved off.

The production values are sky-high here, and del Toro scored a coup when he recruited Danny Elfman to compose the music this time; Elfman fills the soundscape with basso-profundo drama, knockabout comedy, and even a bit of Godzilla larking when Hellboy faces off against a giant Forest God, the last of its kind. Prince Nuada almost derails Hellboy by reminding him that this creature Hellboy wants to destroy is unique, much like Hellboy and his friends, and Hellboy has to make a choice: the monster or humanity? It's nowhere near an easy choice, and the bizarre and conflicting feelings this sequence — not to mention the rest of the film — raises is worthy of a fantasist at the top of his game. I sort of let the story — the official excuse for why we're really there — go by in a blur; the meat of it is in the shedding of a single tear by monsters who didn't think themselves capable of it. At its best, Hellboy II conjures with delicate and very human magic.

came together to learn more about this beautiful town and to share in the making of memories that would last a lifetime. The committee that had worked so hard to create these events were all very pleased at the fulfillment of their endeavors. They also were very much aware that there was still so much about our hometown to share.

In an effort to continue that celebration, of our special place and people, the Mattapoissett Historical Commission is sponsoring, what they hope will become an annual event, called "Heritage Days." A subcommittee for planning the Heritage Days was formed and has been meeting since early in the year to put together several events for the town's first Heritage Days Celebration, which will be held August 1-3, 2008.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your persistence pays off as the information you demanded starts to come through. The pace is slow at first, but it begins to speed up as the week draws to a close.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) An unwelcome bit of news jolts the Bovine, who would prefer that things proceed smoothly. But it's at most a momentary setback. A Leo brings more welcome tidings.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You need to pay close attention to the details before making a commitment. Don't accept anything that seems questionable, unless you get an answer that can be backed up.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Congratulations on getting that project up and running. But as exciting as it is, don't let it carry you away. Make sure you set aside time to spend with family and friends.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Be sure you're part of the discussion involving your suggestions. Your presence ensures that you can defend your work, if necessary. It also helps gain your colleagues' support.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A misunderstanding needs to be dealt with, or it can grow and cause more problems later on. Be the bigger person and take the first step to clear the air.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Set some strict guidelines for yourself so your heavier-than-usual work schedule doesn't overwhelm the time you need to spend relaxing with loved ones.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You might feel a little uncomfortable being among people you hardly know. But remember that today's strangers can become tomorrow's valuable contacts.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Reward yourself for all that you've accomplished despite some annoying situations that got in your way. Enjoy a well-earned getaway with someone special.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Realizing that someone else is taking credit for what you did is bound to get anyone's goat, but especially yours. Be patient. The truth soon comes out.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Forget about opposites attracting. What you need is to find someone who thinks like you and will support your ideas, even if others say they're too radical.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Workplace problems can affect your financial plans. Be prudent and avoid running up bills or making commitments until things begin to ease up by the 25th.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your intuition helps you communicate easily with people and understand their needs.

Marion Taxes Due

Marion Tax Collector Gary J. Carreiro would like to remind residents that the first quarter Fiscal Year (FY) 2009 Preliminary Real Estate and Personal Property Tax Bills have been mailed and are due on Friday, August 1, 2008. Taxpayers may make payments online at www.townofmarion.org through eBill having their payments directly withdrawn from their checking or savings account, or alternately mailing their payments to the Town of Marion, 2 Spring Street, Marion, MA 02738, or make payments directly at the Town House, Monday through Thursday, 8:00 am to 4:30 pm, and Friday from 8:00 am to 3:30 pm.

According to Massachusetts General Laws, failing to receive a tax bill does not relinquish the requirement to pay the tax bill which results in penalties, charges and interest for late payments. Please contact the Tax Collector's office at 508-748-3504 or 508-748-3506 with any questions that you may have regarding your bill.

Mattapoisett Exchange Students

International high school exchange students are coming to study in the Mattapoisett area during the 2008-2009 school year. These students will integrate themselves into a Mattapoisett area family with the goal of experiencing ing American culture as an American high school student does. In turn they will provide insight into their own culture.

The STS Foundation, a non-profit student exchange organization, is proud to help facilitate these relationships. They have been doing so for the past 20 years and look forward to finding new host families in Mattapoisett and connecting them with exchange students.

Students like Victor, who is a 16-year-old boy from Jaboticabal, Brazil. He enjoys playing soccer and tennis and he says he is very interested in learning about the American way of life. Rachel is a 17-year-old girl from Huizen, Netherlands who loves playing field hockey. She also enjoys cycling and photography and is excited to

ATTENTION DRIVERS

If you are involved in a collision you have the right to have your investment, your vehicle, repaired at a shop of your choice. Your insurance company may suggest a list of repair shops. Do not be persuaded by this list, it is not a guarantee of quality of services, nor does it limit your options. You want a shop who will work for you and with you to put your vehicle back to pre-accident condition. COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. is a licensed, bonded, registered repair shop with the state of Massachusetts. We work with all insurance companies to expedite your repairs. The important thing to remember is we repair the vehicle for you, our customers, not the insurance companies. So remember, if the need arises, contact COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. to get back on the road.

Judy Carver has been pursuing her interest in drawing and painting for many years and has taken watercolor classes at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, Rhode Island School of Design and workshops with professional artists. She has always been fascinated by light and shadow, often as they play over building structures. Her goal is to create shapes using these color contrasts while preserving her clarity of vision.

Christine Bean resides in Dartmouth and is well-known for her crisp watercolors of land and ocean scenes. A regular contributor to the Donovan Gallery in Tiverton Four Corners, Ms. Bean captures light and atmosphere in a unique way. She has exhibited extensively throughout Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Alice Shire lives in Marion and recently retired after teaching art for 39 years. She graduated from Mass College of Art and received a Masters degree in Art Education from Bridgewater State College. She enjoys spending time painting and print-making and has been taking private lessons with professional artists in the area.

Meg Howland recently retired and moved to Marion year-round. She received a BA from Barnard College and MA from Harvard University. She owned the Vermont Artisans Store of fine crafts in Brattleboro, VT and was Director of Visitors Services at the Fogg Art Museum in Cambridge, MA. From her home on Planting Island, there are an infinite number of water, marsh and sky views which inspire Ms. Howland's work. The beauty and joy of her surroundings is revealed in intimate oils and watercolors.

The "Small Works" Show will be on display in both galleries at the Marion Art Center until July 23. The Marion Art Center is located on the corner of Main and Pleasant Streets in Marion. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Friday, 1:00 to 5:00 pm and Saturdays, 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. Admission is free.

I found the Aardvark!

Each week we will give away an Aardvark Gift and each month we give away a special Aardvark Gift Basket to one lucky person. All you have to do to enter is find the Aardvark! The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

The winner will be selected from all the correct answers picked by the deadline and the prize will have to be picked up at our office. Only one entry per household per issue please.

To enter, simply find the aardvark in this issue, then go to our web page and select the link "I Found the Aardvark" entry page. If you would like to enter by mail, send your name, address and phone number along with the issue date and page number you found him in to: Wanderer - I Found the Aardvark, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739.

Winner, past location and prizes listed on our website at: www.wanderer.com Click on "I Found the Aardvark"

In the July 10 issue the Aardvark was on page 13!
